

Tourism Cares® for PROVIDENCE

→ Explore. Give Back. Experience. ←

Join us in giving back in a big way in the smallest State! Providence is a fantastic city - and we are going to help keep it that way! Volunteers will get to know The Creative Capital through receptions and fun add-ons and will leave their mark through a hands-on service projects throughout the city all-day Friday.

India Point Park is our main worksite, a park with 18 acres of open space, graceful trees, and walking paths along its 3,600-foot shoreline.

Visited by more than 75,000 people a year, India Point Park is a centerpiece in Rhode Island history: Roger Williams landed nearby on the banks of the Seekonk River in 1636, then canoed along what is now the Park's shoreline to the fresh water spring just up the Providence River. During the 1700's, the bustling port at India Point launched countless trading voyages to the East and West Indies, giving the area its name.

How can you get involved?

1 Volunteer

Registration is available to anyone working in the travel and tourism industry for a $140 non-member/$120 member fee. Visit www.TourismCares.org/providence to sign up.

2 Create a team of your own

Team sponsors have the opportunity to wear their logo with pride and help in building their team for the work day. Great benefits include complimentary registrations, marketing & branding opportunities and guaranteed participation.

3 Spread the word

We are an industry that can do great things and we believe we give better, together. Spread the word to your friends and colleagues. The Tourism Cares community continues to grow and would love your support in making it stronger!

Volunteerism is a major driver of employee loyalty and satisfaction, and is a proven teambuilding and professional development practice.
